It's official Big Brother 9 is going to start on February 12, 2008. It's going to air on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Sunday. I can't wait for it to begin! I really hope that they have some older people on it this time too!

Having some older people on it would be great. I'd also like them to do away with some of the wanna be actors/actresses.

I still can't wait for the season to start.

I am getting tired of watching and walking away from repeats on the TV. I don't have cable so there is only so much to watch!!

Thanks for the info.....

I'm going to try to get into again. I hope this time the personalities are more appealing to me.

I think it had to do a little something with the writer's strike, but I think Allison has been planning this for a while. I think it will do well as long as they try to keep it fresh.

I can't wait for it to start!!!
